The springtime severe weather season is quickly approaching and that means it's time for the annual Nebraska Severe Weather Awareness Poster Contest. The contest, sponsored by the Nebraska Association of Emergency Management, the National Weather Service, the Nebraska National Guard, and the Nebraska Emergency Management Agency, is part of the annual Severe Weather Awareness Week effort produced by emergency management directors and coordinators across Nebraska.

The poster contest is open to all third-grade students in Nebraska public and private schools as well as home-schooled third-grade students. Teachers are encouraged to have students participate while teaching them about hazards of severe weather in Nebraska. While not specifically designed to promote tornado awareness, tornadoes are the most common theme chosen for posters. Lightning and flooding, which are also products of severe thunderstorms, are also good topic choices.

The first-place winner in the state contest wins a $125 gift card. The second-place winner receives a $100 gift card, and the third-place winner receives a $75 gift card. The Nebraska Association of Emergency Management provides the first, second, and third place gift card awards. The fourth-place poster winner receives a $50 gift card sponsored by the National Weather Service.

Contest rules are as follows:

1. Poster artists must be a third-grade pupil in any Nebraska private, public, or home school.
2. Entries must be related to the theme of severe weather safety and will be judged on originality, effort, and accuracy. The posters should have a clear preparedness/weather safety message included.
